S. Comments:When questioned regarding tactics adopted on the gelding, Jockey explained she had been instructed to lead. She said after beginning only fairly, she rode her mount vigorously in the early stages to comply with her instructions. She added that after obtaining the lead the gelding then commenced to over-race and refused to settle and as a result was left without a finishing effort and weakened noticeably. A post-race veterinary examination did not reveal any abnormalities. Jockey concurred with stewards in that she should have made a greater effort to restrain her mount once in the lead.

S. Comments: When questioned in relation to the tactics employed on the gelding, Jockey stated that in his experience the horse has proven difficult to ride when attempts have been made to restrain it. As a result he elected to allow the horse to stride forward and take up a position where it was comfortable. He added that his mount then failed to finish off the race.
